

I pay for my cable television which brings me local channels and also satellite tv which brings me local channels. XM has the right, just like satellite and television to carry local information. If i chose to pay XM to bring me my information, that is my choosing. It keeps me from having to listen to advetisers. I pay for my signal and i don't let big companies chose what i listen too. Leave XM alone. It is an open media just like everything else. Sincerly

Kory Vering